Division of BAI Information Security Consultants

presents

DIACAP Training Courses

Through June, 2010

The Department of Defense Information Assurance Certification and Accreditation Process (DIACAP) was released for immediate implementation across DoD on November 28, 2007. All information systems that transmit, collect, store, or process DoD information must be accredited in accordance with this process.

The DIACAP Resource Center is pleased to announce the availability of a DIACAP training program that can quickly get you “up to speed” on the DIACAP process steps, documentation, and DoD baseline requirements. The DIACAP training program consists of two courses, DIACAP Fundamentals and DIACAP In Depth.

For training registration, or any other questions, please call 540-808-1050, or e-mail diacap@diacap.net.

Custom Classes

If you have a group of potential students (normally at least 8-10) and a suitable classroom facility, we can arrange to present one or both of these DIACAP classes at your location. On-site classes offer a significant discount compared to individual “per student” registration. By eliminating the need for travel, the savings to your organization can be dramatic. Please contact us at 540-808-1050 for a quotation.

About Us

The DIACAP Resource Center is an independent consulting organization established to assist the DoD and its contractors in implementing the DIACAP process.

The DIACAP Resource Center is a division of BAI Information Security Consultants, providers of Information Assurance consulting services (since 1974) and specialists in Certification and Accreditation (C&A) of federal systems.

In addition to DIACAP training, we offer training in the NIST/FISMA C&A process used by federal civilian agencies and the intelligence community. For more information, please visit www.fedca.org.

BAI also provides information assurance consulting services to government and industry. Please contact us at 540-808-1050 for more information on our consulting services.
